Discipline Two Police Officers

One Given Two Weeks' Suspension Without Pay—One "Severely Reprimanded"

One officer was suspended for two weeks without pay and another was severely reprimanded this week when the board of selectmen decided that disciplinary measures were necessary as the aftermath of a police dispute at the recent Shawsheen Dairy labor trouble.

A hearing was held at the town house Tuesday night at which were present in addition to the selectmen, Chief Dane, Sergeant Saunders, Officers McBride, Jowett, Stevens, Dailey and Special Officer Lyle. Most of these officers were present at the dispute which occurred between Officers Jowett and McBride.

The selectmen later voted to suspend Officer McBride for the period between June 3 and June 17 without pay and to ask the Chief to "severely reprimand" Officer Jowett "for conduct unbecoming an officer." The letter ended: "We suggest at this time that you call attention to the officers in your department to proper conduct and relations between brother officers and the proper attitude of officers toward citizens at large."

Hope to Supply Own Electricity

The possibility of supplying the central school system with electricity from a Diesel generator was discussed at the meeting of the school committee on Tuesday evening. It was reported at the meeting that the cost of electricity for the year would be about $3000, several members stating that they felt the present rate was too high. The rate is about 7 1-2 cents per Kilowatt hour for light and four cents for power.

It was suggested that two identical generators be bought, one to act as a standby, and it was also suggested that a tie-in might be made with the town hall, the fire station and the library. The whole matter was referred to the advisory subcommittee for study and report at a later meeting.

COUNTY TAX LOWER

The 1937 county assessment against Andover this year is about $1200 less than last year, it was announced this week. This year's figure is $24,459.30 and last year's $25,672.85.

Boy Injured in Bicycle Accident

A public school student, Norman Druiin of 115 Abbot street, was slightly injured Wednesday afternoon in a collision between his bicycle and a sedan on Bartlet street at the intersection of Punchard avenue.

The boy received a nose-bleed when his bicycle struck the rear fender of the sedan operated by Gladys S. McAllister, 260 Broadway, Methuen. She was operating south on Bartlet.

Committee Also Votes to Extend Physical Education System

Emil Keiler, now teaching in the Amherst high school, was appointed Practical Arts teacher for the Junior High school on Tuesday evening at the meeting of the school committee. He has had about eight years' teaching experience, and is a graduate of Smith Vocational school and Fitchburg State, in addition to receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in education. He has done considerable travelling in Europe.

Mr. Sanborn reported at the meeting that a survey made by the Methuen superintendent of transportation charges in 37 towns showed Andover as the third lowest in cost per pupil per year with a figure of $14.44, some towns being twice that. Andover's cost per mile is also very low in comparison to the other towns.

The teachers committee recommended the extension of the Physical education program to the grades, with Donald Dunn in charge. Mr. Dunn will also continue his present work as instructor of physical education for junior high and high school boys. A new physical fitness index system was adopted, to be tried out first in the seventh grade and the sophomore class.

Mr. Sanborn reported that the first grade enrollment would be comparatively small next year, and that at present there

Rooster Telephone

How would you like to be awakened by a telephone call at twenty-five minutes of one? It happened to us a couple of weeks ago, and we liked it! Of course we thought it was mighty inconsiderate of those three stick-up men to wait until that late at night to rob Howard Johnson's, but we also thought that it was mighty considerate of Officer Bill Shaw to call us with the information that there had been a very newsworthy hold-up. We're connected with a Boston paper the last edition of which goes on the press at 1.15 a.m. and so Bill's tip enabled us to get the story in time for that edition. The telephone line to Howard Johnson's was busy when we called to get the story, but thanks to the night operator whose chief bother at night seems to be newspapermen we were put right on the minute the line was clear, and minutes after Carl Stevens had given us the information, it was being put in type in Boston.

Several times in our four years' experience with the Boston paper officers have gone out of their way to call us when some serious accident or other story took place. The first that we remember was Frank McBride, when Stanley Podolski of Dorchester met his death by crashing into a truck near Arden early one morning. Frank once again repeated on an early morning suicide. Jock Deyermund also went to the bother of looking up our number and calling us when a Derry man was killed early this year on the by-pass. Others of course are always ready to give us the information when we make our regular check-ups, while oftentimes some are too busy working on the case to waste time on us newspapermen.

Children's Day to Be Held Sunday

Next Sunday will be children's day at the South church. The regular 10.45 morning service will be in charge of the children, with the Junior choir assisting the minister in the conduct of the service of worship, the Little Church ushers taking over the duties usually performed by their elders, and the Primary and Kindergarten departments having their exercises. There will be baptisms and prizes for attendance and the annual distribution of flowers.

Preceding the services the Clansmen marched from Fraternal hall to the church, with the Clan McPherson pipe band furnishing the music.

Mother and Baby Injured by Auto

A mother and her fourteen-months-old baby were slightly injured yesterday afternoon when a car struck them on Essex street near the railroad crossing. Mrs. William Taylor of 6 Springfield street, Lawrence, was wheeling her fourteen-months-old son, David, in a carriage up Essex street, and while attempting to cross from the right to the left they were bumped by a car driven by Emma Holmes of South Main street. The baby was tossed out of the carriage, the mother was thrown about eight feet and the carriage badly damaged. A sister, Mrs. Katherine Taylor of Mt. Vernon street, South Lawrence, escaped injury.

The baby was removed to Dr. Blake's and the mother to the Lawrence General hospital. Both are now resting at the home of Mrs. Katherine Taylor. The baby was bruised about the forehead, and the mother sustained a cut over her right ear, an injured back, and bruised legs. Sergeant Hickey investigated.

Thimble Club Names Officers

Mrs. James Gillespie was elected president of the Thimble club at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Square and Compass club hall. Mrs. Bessie Chapman was named vice-president and Mrs. Harold Wood secretary-treasurer.

The annual reports of the secretary and treasurer were received showing a profitable year.

The club voted to have an annual outing at the Log Cabin at the Bird Sanctuary on July first. A catered luncheon will be served. It was also voted to accept Mrs. William Taylor's invitation to an outing at her camp at Rock Pond, Georgetown, late in July.

Refreshments at yesterday's meeting were served by a committee headed by Mrs. Howard Pillsbury.

Plans Made by Clan Auxiliary

Plans were made at the auxiliary meeting for a strawberry festival to be held at the next meeting on June 17. The Clansmen will be guests at that time. An invitation was also received from the Clan to attend an entertainment at the meeting on June 18.

Past President Ina Petrie has been named a delegate to the convention to be held in Youngstown, Ohio, from June 22 to June 24. She will leave June 20.

Give Youngsters Farewell Party

Friday, May 28, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hopper, entertained the whole Briggs-Allen school and faculty and a few invited guests at the Log Cabin in honor of their niece and nephew, Joanne and Nicolas Stein. It was a time of merriment from beginning to end. The guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Hopper, Mr. and Mrs. Stein and Joanne and Nicolas. There was an air of mystery about what was to happen inside the Log Cabin but the guests soon found out they were to have a puppet show. Mrs. Fuller and her son of the Fuller Studios, Quincy, gave a fascinating puppet show featuring Snow White and Rose Red which was followed by the Little Gingerbread Man. The children's chuckles of delight and their efforts to help added to the fun.

The children, led by Miss Helen Ripley, gave pleasure by singing the Alma Mater and many songs. Kenneth Tomlinson surprised the grown-ups by tap-dancing.

Games outside were played before the delicious supper. The way the sandwiches, chocolate pep, ice cream and cake disappeared was a marvel to see but there was no limit to the goodies. The favors of bright colored balloons, snappers, hats for the boys and parasols for the girls made every one happy. Time to go came all too soon but the memory of the wonderful time will always be in the minds of those who attended.

It is with regret that the school gives up Joanne and Nicolas on June 9, to go to California with their parents.

Fire Inspection Plan Adopted

A new periodic fire inspection system was adopted Tuesday evening at the school committee meeting as a means of preventing any tragedies here similar to those experienced in other communities.

Under the new plan the principal of each school will make a thorough check-up every two weeks, and every three months the chief of the fire department or his representative will examine all the schools. The principal is to report to the superintendent and he to the school board, if there are any defects.

The report of the principal will touch on such things as the condition of stairs, fire doors, exit doors, windows, chemical extinguishers, standpipes, fire drill, yard hydrants, and general order and cleanliness.

Police Force Can Realize More From Its Potentialities If It Adheres to Selectmen's Suggestion

This week the Board of Selectmen, after a hearing, took drastic action against two policemen who had allegedly indulged in "conduct unbecoming an officer" while on duty early one morning. Added to the selectmen's notice of the suspension of one officer for two weeks and the severe reprimanding of another officer was a very worthwhile statement emphasizing the need for "proper conduct and relations between brother officers and the proper attitude of officers toward citizens at large."

Police officers are human beings, prone to all the many faults that we other human beings yield to at times. These two particular officers while on duty at a little labor difficulty in Shawsheen village gave vent to some rather harsh language against each other which created not a little disturbance at the time and a rather tense feeling in the department since that time. The two officers realize of course that they made a mistake, a serious mistake, and it will probably be some time before they let their tongues get the better of them again while on duty.

The last sentence in the selectmen's order combined with the disciplinary action should do the local police department a world of good, for there can be no doubt that in some cases the feeling of officer for officer has not been of the best. Some of the jealousies so common in big city departments where politics play such a heavy role have crept into Andover's force. Dislikes are a human trait, and it is hard to blame anyone for disliking others, but when it stands in the way of proper law enforcement as it well might at times, officers must put the proper carrying out of their duty above their own personal feelings. The men are not working for themselves; they are working for a common aim, and the only way to achieve that aim is by complete harmony and complete cooperation in the department. It involves paying strict attention to the orders of superiors; it involves giving heed to the opinions of equals. The man that gets ahead in the department is the man that follows these principles even when it does mean forgetting self and not letting things "get" him.

Andover's police force has excellent possibilities, and strict adherence to the suggestion laid down in the selectmen's letter will bring out those possibilities to the fullest extent. The two officers who are being subjected to disciplinary action at present have done some fine work in the past, and when the penalty has been paid for the little "blowing off steam" incident, they will return to do more fine work. The last suggestion of the selectmen was for "the proper attitude of officers toward citizens at large," and in this particular instance it might be well for citizens at large to exercise their duty of having a proper attitude toward the officers. For if we citizens will forget that the officers were punished, the officers will be more apt to remember the lesson that the selectmen are attempting to impart to them.

Siftings

It looks as if there are a lot of chips on a lot of shoulders and a lot of fists that would like to knock a lot of chips off a lot of shoulders in Europe.

There are a large number of graduation speakers at present trying to think up something to say that will not sound just like all the previous graduation speeches.

Exeter has won only swimming, golf and lacrosse this school year. For a 100 percent average Andover should pass an ex post facto law declaring swimming, golf and lacrosse out as sports until next year.

Max Schmeling met Jimmy Braddock in a championship fight last night, but Jimmy wasn't there. On weighing in Max was 196 while Jimmy had evidently fallen away to a shadow.

EDITORIAL—OUR STUDENT COUNCIL

In several weeks we shall hold our graduation exercises. At this time we shall be looking forward with anticipation to a happy summer, and also to entering other schools next fall. We should not let our thoughts carry us too far, however. We should think of the many fine times that we have had and of the things that we have gained or accomplished in the Andover Junior High School. This year has been a most successful one. We may attribute this chiefly to three things. The first is that the teachers gave us willingly their aid and assistance in anything that we undertook to do. They also showed much interest in our intra-mural sports, dances, and other social functions, and willingly gave us their valuable time and aid in helping to make these things a success. Secondly, the pupils themselves cooperated willingly when there was any work to be done or duties to be performed in carrying out successfully any curricular activity. Last, but not least, we can truthfully say that the student council did much to make this, our first year in this new school, a success. They have worked untiringly for the good of the majority and have been truly representative of all the pupils, faculty, and the school itself. They have much to show for their work. They have performed countless duties, undertaken many new ventures, and planned and carried out most of our student activities. They were the "voice of the pupils." Any thing that we thought should be done for the good of the school we discussed in the home rooms and then submitted it to the student council for approval and action. If it was worthy of action, it was always carried out. This being our first year in the school and with a student government plan and constitution, it rather complicated matters. The student government was composed entirely of student representatives, headed by student officers, and run under a constitution which was drawn up entirely by students themselves. To make a summary of all the accomplishments of our student council would be almost impossible.

Our student council, consisting of all the presidents and vice-presidents of the various home rooms was headed by officers elected by the students. These home room representatives, making up the majority of the members, have done an admirable job and have sacrificed class periods and then made up the work later in order to perform their duties. The officers, headed by president Augustine Rapisardi, have shown excellent ability in the performance of their duties. They have headed and carried out all of the meetings and personally performed most of the work, such as making arrangements, decorating the gymnasium when we have had dances, and performing other duties which have befallen them. They have shown that they possess all the qualities needed to be good citizens. They have also proven themselves to be leaders among men and that they will never shirk when duties come their way. We owe them a great debt of gratitude. They have made our school year a success. They have made improvements and helped to carry them out whenever needed. When our studies sometimes made school life monotonous, they always had planned some activity which would make it more pleasant and always they tried new experiments and different ways of doing things to find out the best way, the most pleasant, and one which the future classes of the school will find useful. One thing that is interesting to note is the fact that everything that they did was worthwhile and not for the purpose of merely to keep doing something. They helped inaugurate the Student Government Association which greatly benefited the school and the pupils, financially. They bought pencils with the school's name upon them which were attractive as souvenirs and useful in our work, and incidentally, of great benefit to the school treasury. But these are merely examples to show the nature of their accomplishments. We owe these class leaders more than can ever be paid in real value, but they have the thanks, praise and acknowledgements of the entire school, student body, and faculty, for their good citizenship, services, and faithful and untiring work.

WARREN L. RICHARDSON

Andover Swamps Exeter in Track

The annual Exeter-Andover track meet last Saturday came out as was expected, with Andover leading 87 1-3 to 38 2-3 when the final event was completed. In two events Andover made a clean sweep and in five others the local team allowed Exeter but one of the nine points.

In the track events Exeter scored only 13 of the possible 63 points, with Captain Bob Russell giving the team its only first in a running event when he took the half. Exeter took four out of the seven first places in the field events, but even here Andover's better balance gave it enough seconds and thirds to more than offset this.

The second team meet was even more of a rout, Andover winning 106 to 20, with Exeter being blanked in six events, and scoring but one point in six others.

Don Donahue of Lawrence set a new meet record in high hurdles and a new school and meet record in the lows. The discus meet record was beaten by an Exeter and also by an Andover man.

The baseball team overwhelmed Lawrence academy last Friday afternoon, and on Monday afternoon took a 4-2 decision from the Andover Town team. Tomorrow it goes into the Exeter game favored to win, with the Exeter pitching staff, not too brilliant at best, handicapped by the absence of their best member who is suffering from a severe sunburn.

On Wednesday the Exeter tennis team was added to the long list of Exeter victims this year when it was defeated 5-4 by

Punchard Splits League Games

Punchard High split two league games and won one non-league game in another bad week for high school baseball fans this week. Not until the Ipswich game on Wednesday did the batters remember that they were supposed to be batters instead of statues. In the game the preceding day only one hit was made by a Punchard player.

On last Friday Tewksbury succumbed 10-5 although they outhit Punchard 9-8. Connors and Barrett hit doubles to help Punchard win.

On Tuesday Punchard's hitters dropped to the lowest depths of the year when they were able to secure only one bingle off the offerings of Hadley, Wilmington twirler who hurled his team to a 3-1 decision. Harold Walker made the lone hit. Not a single pass did Hadley issue, and he fanned twelve. Three infield errors marred the Wilmington victory. Shattuck taking things a little too easy, struck out six and allowed seven hits.

The defeat sent Punchard down to fifth place in the Valley suburban standing, with three wins and four defeats.

Ray Lynch's stick began to connect after a long slump on Wednesday when Punchard defeated Ipswich 11-3. He made a homer, a double and a single in five trips to the plate. In the box he was not terribly effective, allowing eight hits, passing three and fanning only one. The hits however were kept fairly well scattered. Punchard's second-inning five-run lead was never in danger.

Deferred Program to Be Presented

Many people who were expecting the Royal Suite to come to the Briggs-Allen school on April 16 were much disappointed when a cable announced that Princess Holly had chicken pox, so the arrival was postponed. However, word has arrived that the Princess, Joanna, the Court Page, Lady Phyllis and even Hilary, the bandit, have recovered and will, with the other members, appear in person in a play Holly and Hilary at the South church, Wednesday, June 16, at 10 a.m., as a part of the closing day exercises.

Many other interesting activities will take place on that day. Annette Curran will have the honor of playing not only for the children's processional but for her sister's graduation.

The Toy Symphony, with Horace Sayward Cook, Jr., as conductor, will be in fine trim to give music loud enough for all to hear.

An invitation to attend is given to all interested in the children.

Will Award $25 Tomorrow Night

Tomorrow evening the first drawing for the twenty-five dollar prize in the Andover Merchants' treasure hunt will be held at the store of Carl Elander at six o'clock. It is not necessary to be present to secure the award as is the case with Bank Nights. The number of the lucky ticket will be displayed in store windows and the holder of the lucky stub may claim by presenting it within two weeks from the drawing.

A number of the merchants have been giving out tickets with purchases this week. The stores participating have posters in their windows signifying this fact.

The plan, which will continue weekly until further notice, is being sponsored by the Merchants' committee of the Service club.

Hold Card Party for Bazaar Benefit

Eleven tables of bridge and whist were occupied at the party held in Christ Church parish house on Wednesday evening. The affair was under the direction of the Bazaar Committee and the proceeds went into the treasury for the coming affair.

During the evening candy and peanuts were sold and refreshments of strawberry shortcake and punch were served. A small prize was given the winner at each table.

The committee consisted of Mrs. Roger Peabody, Mrs. Charles A. Hill, Mrs. Walter Howe, Mrs. J. Houghton Flint, Mrs. Ralph Berry, Mrs. Homer Judge, Miss Elizabeth Hilton and Miss Ruth Saunders.
